

Svolvær Hotell Lofoten

WELCOME TO LOFOTEN ISLANDS

... and the cosy art-hotel in Svolvær

Lofoten! Lofoten!

The name alone sets Your thoughts racing.
The montains, the light, the sea, the Lofoten cod.

Small, picturesque fishing villages that look like they`ve just stepped out of fairytales. And in the midst of this fairytale landscape, Svolvær Hotel Lofoten! Not the biggest, but extremely cosy.

Best Western Svolvær Hotell Lofoten is a modern, comfortable hotel in the centre of Svolvær.

Situated in a quiet part of the capital of Lofoten, just 5 minutes walk from the town centre and the lively harbour. You are in the centre of everything and we'll help you to experience the exact Lofoten adventure you are looking for!

The hotel was built in 1986/1994 and is run by Børre Henningsen and Kirsti Liland. The hotel owner's great uncle was Edvard Munch and his reproductions adorn the hotel.

Lofoten is waiting for you!

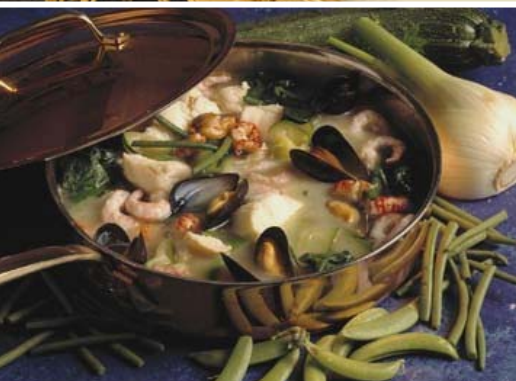

We are not the biggest – but cosy!

The hotel has 24 rooms, most of which are doubles. 8 of these rooms are equipped with their own mini kitchens. Naturally, all of the rooms have en suite bathrooms with showers/baths. We also have 4 apartments. Football fans will be interested to know that we have cable TV with free access to Canal +.

Reception can arrange wireless broadband Internet access.

The hotel's own restaurant - 'Restaurant Edvard' serves a good, traditional crofters' menu.

We work very closely with the other restaurants in town and will happily tailor an event to suit your wishes.

Seminars, conferences, board meetings,
trips away for both the lads and lasses...
Arrange your next event in Lofoten and gain an unforgettable experience into the bargain!

The hotel's meeting room can accommodate up to 25 people. For larger events we can arrange for the use of external premises for both meetings and accommodation.

The surrounding landscape invites you to try out many exciting activities. Don't miss out on an unforgettable experience...
